

In this lesson, Kindergarten students learned about an artist who used texture in his artwork. His name was Vincent Van Gogh. Students used a variety of materials and techniques to create their own version of "Sunflowers" by Van Gogh.
Look at and feel all the texture in our artwork!

In this lesson, Kindergarten students learned about an artist who used texture in his artwork. His name was Vincent Van Gogh. Students used a variety of materials and techniques to create their own version of "Sunflowers" by Van Gogh.
Look at and feel all the texture in our artwork!

In this lesson, Kindergarten students learned about an artist who used texture in his artwork. His name was Vincent Van Gogh. Students used a variety of materials and techniques to create their own version of "Sunflowers" by Van Gogh.
Look at and feel all the texture in our artwork!

In this lesson, Kindergarten students learned about an artist who used texture in his artwork. His name was Vincent Van Gogh. Students used a variety of materials and techniques to create their own version of "Sunflowers" by Van Gogh.
Look at and feel all the texture in our artwork!

In this lesson, Kindergarten students learned about an artist who used texture in his artwork. His name was Vincent Van Gogh. Students used a variety of materials and techniques to create their own version of "Sunflowers" by Van Gogh.
Look at and feel all the texture in our artwork!

In this lesson, Kindergarten students learned about an artist who used texture in his artwork. His name was Vincent Van Gogh. Students used a variety of materials and techniques to create their own version of "Sunflowers" by Van Gogh.
Look at and feel all the texture in our artwork!

In this lesson, Kindergarten students learned about an artist who used texture in his artwork. His name was Vincent Van Gogh. Students used a variety of materials and techniques to create their own version of "Sunflowers" by Van Gogh.
Look at and feel all the texture in our artwork!

In this lesson, Kindergarten students learned about an artist who used texture in his artwork. His name was Vincent Van Gogh. Students used a variety of materials and techniques to create their own version of "Sunflowers" by Van Gogh.
Look at and feel all the texture in our artwork!